GREAT MYSTERY ENSHROUDS REBUT- TAL TESTIMONY

State Given Until Tomorrow
to Prepare For Its Final Effort to Convict Cooper.

Defense Concludes Evidence
in Chief.

STATE'S THEORY IS WITHHELD

Nashville, Tenn., March 3.—After a conference of attorneys the defense rested its case at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and court adjourned until 9 o'clock Thursday to allow the prosecution an opportunity to prepare its rebuttal.

Counsel agreed that the map might show that immediately north of the alley of Dr. Fort's infirmary, there is a high plank fence and between the fence and the south wall of the brick building there is a passageway and at the mouth of this passageway there is a gate.

"This agreement is reached by the attorneys to obviate the necessity of getting a witness here," stated Mr. Anderson, of the defense.

Albert E. Hill was next sworn. Witness is publisher of the Labor Advocate. He was examined by Mr. Anderson. Witness said he was on the committee having in charge the Labor Day, 1907, exercises at Glendale park; that Senator Carmack made an address on that occasion.

On cross-examination witness stated that there was an unusually large crowd present and that he had introduced Senator Carmack; that the speaking was over about 3:30, and that Carmack was on the veranda with Major Stahlman, Dr. Anderson and others till about 5 o'clock.

Defense's attorneys were here indulged by the court in a consultation. At 4 o'clock the attorneys for the defense returned to the court room, and Mr. Anderson announced that the defense rested its case here.

General McCann asked the court for time for a brief consultation.

Before the attorneys retired, however, General Washington stated that as the state had indicated its purpose to cross-examine several of defense's witnesses they should be cross-examined before rebuttal proof was offered.

A great mystery surrounds the rebuttal testimony of the state. General McCann significantly hinted at witnesses who must come from afar, and it was for this reason he asked for the delay until Thursday. The seven gentlemen who are interested in the prosecution look well satisfied. They content themselves with the brief expression, "You have not heard our case yet."

Will Recall Miss Lee.

One thing is sure. Miss Lee, the confidential secretary and stenographer of Judge Bradford, will be recalled, and she will be asked about many things brought out in cross-examination of Robin Cooper, Duncan Cooper, Judge Bradford, General Brown and others who visited the office that day of November 9. It is the impression that she will be used to further show that Judge Bradford was very bitter in regard to Senator Carmack, and that letters were written by her to friends of Judge Bradford, in which he personally expressed the bitterness of this feeling. From what can be ascertained, Miss Lee will submit herself entirely to the state and will reveal all that came to her knowledge, both as confidential secretary and as office stenographer, in regard to the case.

Theory of the Defense.

The position of the defense is clear. It was forcefully stated by Robin Cooper, the first witness, and the defense strengthened this theory, adding to it wherever possible and removing obstacles wherever presented. It has never once deviated from the theory of self-defense. The defense has sought to prove that Colonel Cooper, after pledging himself to his friends to send no note to Senator Carmack, on a mission of peace went to Senator Carmack, when he met him that afternoon, to see if by talking with him some adjustment of their difficulties could not be arranged. Fearing his father might be attacked, Robin Cooper followed him. Seeing the two Coopers, Senator Carmack became alarmed and fearing an attack, opened fire. After two shots had been fired, Robin Cooper returned the fire with an automatic pistol, sending three steel-jacketed bullets into the body of the deceased, any one of which would have produced instant death.

To establish its theory, the defense during its reply to the state, has shown that there were three pistols turned over to the police. One pistol was given Robin Cooper by Robin Jones, his uncle. This is the auto-

Electrical Illumination at Night, Gay Bunting and Flags by Day Greet Visitors at the Capital City

Over 150,000 Visitors Already on Scene and Others Are Coming in by the Train Load.

Washington, March 3.—With the inauguration nearer at hand the population of this city is 75,000 to 100,000 greater than usual, and by tonight this surplus will be doubled.

Of the 31,000 members of civic and military organizations who will participate in the inaugural parade, about one-third already have arrived. By tonight fully nine-tenths of them will be here. The West Point cadets reached the city this afternoon and the Annapolis "middles" will arrive Thursday morning.

Pennsylvania avenue is brilliantly illuminated. Long golden ropes of gorgeously glittering electric lights, waving American flags done in red, white and blue lights, shields bearing in the midst of the light the beaming face of the president-elect and other similar devices, made the fronts of many buildings pictures of fairyland beauty. In one tall building the upper floors were a mass of red light, the middle floors white and the lower floors blue.

Military uniforms were thickly scattered among the thousands who marched in the pre-inaugural parade up and down Pennsylvania avenue, crowding the broad sidewalks and overflowing into the streets.

The guests of President and Mrs. Roosevelt, President-elect and Mrs. Taft will begin their occupancy of the white house tonight, going there for dinner and remaining.

After the inauguration there will be a reunion of the various members of the Taft family at the white house. Yesterday Taft was called upon by Senator-elect Root and the two had a lengthy conference. Its details, Taft said, was not properly a matter for public discussion. The Oregon delegation in congress called on him with reference to the federal judgeship.

Fair Weather Predicted.

Washington, March 3.—Most of those scheduled to take part in the inauguration are here and the city is crowded. The decorations have all been placed. The weather bureau today forecasts fair and colder weather for tomorrow. Many bets are being made among visitors on the weather. Black horse troop A, of the Ohio National Guard, of Cleveland, which will be Taft's personal escort, arrived today.

Herrick Refuses Ambassadorship.

Washington, March 3.—Taft today authorized the statement that he had tendered an ambassadorship to Myron T. Herrick, of Ohio, but had been refused on account of Herrick's business connections.

Griscorn Resigns.

Rome, March 3.—Ambassador Griscorn sent his resignation to Washington today in anticipation of sweeping changes in the ambassadorial corps.

matic gun about which there has been never any dispute. One pistol was seen close to Senator Carmack's head by his close friend, Leigh Thompson, who stooped over a few minutes after he was shot to see if life was extinct. This pistol was identified as the Carmack pistol. It was picked up by Lieut. J. W. Pilcher, of the United States army, who breeched it in the presence of Police-man Vaughn, showing that it had been fired twice recently, as traces of escaping gases and powder smoke were still visible in the barrel. He also testified that one cartridge discharged was to the right of the barrel and one in the barrel, showing they had been fired in succession. Finally this pistol was identified by the third witness, Major W. O. Vertrees, who swore that it was his pistol, and that when he gave it to him he showed him how to use it and filled each chamber with loaded cartridges. The defense is satisfied that this establishes the identity of the Carmack weapon, for Thompson, Pilcher and Vertrees were close friends of the deceased and were intimate associates, at least Vertrees and Thompson were.

Col. Cooper's Pistol.

The defense introduced Colonel Thomas Hutchison, one of the three fire and police commissioners of the city of Nashville, to show that on Sunday night about the same time Senator Carmack was arming himself, he gave to Colonel Duncan B. Cooper a new nickel-plated revolver, which had never been fired, and which had never been stained or smoked with powder. On the stand Citizen.

THE BURIAL AT OAK GROVE

Mr. Charles Friedrich, 61 years old, died this morning at his home, 233 North Sixth street, shortly after 2 o'clock, after an illness since last Friday of paralysis and pneumonia. Mr. Friedrich all his life had been a hale and hearty man till Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock when he suffered a stroke of paralysis. The next day after the stroke of paralysis, pneumonia set in making his illness fatal.

Mr. Friedrich was a native of Germany. He was born at Hanover, Germany, in 1847 and lived there till he was 18 years old. He then came to this country when he was 19 years old and resided in New York for three years and since that time he had been a resident of this city.

Mr. Friedrich had been a resident of Paducah for the last 40 years and had been one of Paducah's most honorable citizens. The first ten years Mr. Friedrich lived in the city he followed the tailoring business and for the last 30 years he had been in the sewing machine business. For many years Mr. Friedrich was the only sewing machine agent in this city and he established a large business and a prosperous one. Many of the older citizens of this city will remember Mr. Friedrich as being a very good business man; all his life in this city he has been an upright, generous citizen.

Mr. Friedrich had been a devoted member of the First Presbyterian church for many years. He was also a member of the Masonic lodge, the Odd Fellows and the Golden Circle. The Masonic lodge and the Odd Fellows will have charge of the funeral and both organizations will carry out their funeral ceremonies.

Mr. Friedrich was married 21 years ago to Miss May Pickering of Princeton. He is survived by his wife and two children, Miss Maizie Friedrich, and William Friedrich. He has relatives living in New York City and relatives who reside in Germany. Mr. Friedrich carried a heavy life insurance in several different companies.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church. The Rev. W. E. Cave, pastor of the Presbyterian church, and the Rev. David C. Wright, rector of Grace Episcopal church, officiating. The burial will be in Oak Grove cemetery.

O'Brien Case Reversed

Frankfort, Ky., March 3. (Special.)—The appellate court this morning reversed the decision of the McCracken county circuit court in the case of the Mutual Life Insurance company against Mrs. Belle O'Brien. Mrs. O'Brien sued the insurance company to recover a policy on the life of her husband, Pat O'Brien, on which the premiums had not been paid for some time before death. In the lower court Mrs. O'Brien was given a decision for $5,000, the value of the policy.

River Men Seek Points of Safety From Wind Tossed River for Their Craft Today

Shipping Interests Damaged by Gale Which Began in Early Morning and Continued at Terrific Rate.

A strong wind blowing up stream at the Paducah harbor arose early this morning and has made the river so rough and choppy that it was impossible for either packet or towboats to run. Towboats due in today with loaded tows will be compelled to tie up till the wind subsides. Several of the packet boats that are scheduled to make daily trips in and out of this port have tied up till the river again becomes smooth. Big rollers are washing ashore against the foundations of buildings close to the river front. The water is up several feet on the buildings located on the levee between Broadway and Jefferson street and a close watch is kept on the foundations to keep them from crumbling from the wash of the river.

The river is several inches deep on the new sidewalk on Water street, located just down the levee from the Armour building at First street and Broadway. In the cellar of the Fowler & Crumbaugh boat store the water is over a foot deep and has caused considerable damage to stock that was kept in the cellar. Work at the Paducah Marine Ways has been greatly hindered on account of the high water.

The river is up a half square on Jefferson street, the highest water that has been here for several years. The steamer Dick Fowler instead of making her regular trip to Cairo this morning went up the Tennessee river to tie up and keep out of the wind and the rough river. Capt. Ed Cowling, in command of the steamer George Cowling, telephoned to this city this morning saying the river was too rough for the Cowling to make her regular trip and she would not leave Metropolis till the wind died down. The Royal, in the Goldconda and Paducah trade, did not arrive in port today on account of the rough river. The J. B. Richardson, in the Cumberland river trade, was delayed on account of the high wind and has not yet arrived in port. The John S. Hopkins, due in from Evansville this morning, has been held up by the wind and will be in this afternoon or tonight. All boats that were scheduled to leave today will not start out till after the gale is over. The strong wind and the high water will probably cause a great deal of damage along the river front. Two logs got tangled in the wheel of the towboat Harth this morning and for a while it seemed as though the wheel would be destroyed, but by some fast work and by putting their lives in peril the crew got the logs out of the wheel. No large damages caused by the wash of the river has yet been reported.

River men do not expect the crest of the flood until late tomorrow night and in the meantime a considerable rise is anticipated. The gauge at the foot of Broadway this morning registered 43.6, a rise of 0.6 since yesterday.

HUSBANDS WILL

The suit of W. M. Husbands, state revenue agent for McCracken county, against Hiram Smedley for disobedience in his office, was dismissed this morning as far as the county was concerned. Mr. Husbands objected to the motion, but Judge Reed overruled the objection, and the motion of Mr. Barkley was sustained. An appeal was taken on the case by Mr. Husbands.

The board of public works met in regular session last night at the city hall and disposed of much routine business. Standard Oil Hearing

CHINA'S TEA INDUSTRY.

Reliable Information Given As To Picking, Sorting and Packing Leaf.

Replying to a letter from Pennsylvania inquiring about curing Chinese tea, Consul General Charles Denby of Shanghai replies:

Tea is not placed on plates for drying and withering, but on protected bamboo mats, from which it is impossible for the wind to blow it. Green tea and black tea are prepared quite differently after picking, is partially dried in the sun or by artificial heat, and subsequently, at the pleasure of the tea man, is dried, rolled and colored in iron pans over a slow charcoal fire. Then the leaf is sifted according to its size and shape, making such grades as Gunpowder, Young Hyson and Tyson, as known in the foreign markets. After this process is finished it is put into packages or chests weighing between sixty and seventy pounds, ready for export.

The color of black tea is due in no way to coloring matter, as is commonly supposed, but is caused by the withering or fermentation. Immediately after picking it is slightly withered or fermented by being placed in the sun, and the expertness of the tea man is shown in his being able to know just when to stop the withering or fermentation. After this the leaf is rolled in bamboo trays and fired in pans until thoroughly dry and ready for packing. These teas are packed in chests and half-chests for export, and in case it comes from the tea man in smaller packages it is repacked to suit the wishes of the purchaser. Tea chests are practically all made in the same manner—of wood, lead-lined, and when ready for export are wrapped with coarse Canton mats.

Both tea dust and common grades of black tea are made in the shape of bricks, weighing usually between one and a half and two pounds. All teas in this shape are exported to Siberia and Mongolia and in a less degree to Russia. The United States does not use tea in this form.—United States Consular Reports.

JEFFRIES SAYS HE CAN WHIP JOHNSON

Could Knock Present Champions Head Off.

Al Kaufman Sends One of His Periodical Challenges to Box Jim.

WHAT THE SPORTS ARE DOING.

Chicago, Ill., March 3.—"I won't go back to the ring unless I have plenty of time to get into perfect condition. But if I ever do I will knock Johnson's head off."

This was the statement made by James J. Jeffries, retired heavy-weight champion of the world, who reached the city yesterday and who is now quartered at the Auditorium Annex. He will remain until nearly noon today and will then depart for New York, where he will fill a theatrical engagement. He will return three weeks hence.

Jeffries was accompanied by his wife and Sam Berger, the former amateur heavy-weight champion of the world. Berger won his title at the Olympic games in St. Louis in 1904 during the Louisiana purchase exposition.

Jeffries seemed in good shape, considering the amount of talk that has been spread about his excess of fat, and has a deep, ruddy brown in his cheeks which seems to indicate that he is in fair trim. He was introduced from the stage of the American Music Hall yesterday and was greeted with wild applause.

"We are simply taking our time," said Sam Berger. "Jeff has to get back into trim, and I don't see any reason why Jeffries should pay any attention to Johnson's claims that he is the champion. Jim never was beaten. He retired from the ring undefeated. I don't see where that gives Johnson any right to cut in and claim that he has the title. Who gave it to Burns, anyway? He never beat anybody for it that had a right to hang a handle to his name."

Jeffries himself seems to take the whole pugilistic position rather philosophically.

"My hands are in first-class shape," he said, "and Sam Berger and myself are training a couple hours every day. I don't claim to be in the best of shape just at present, but I can round into trim once more. I intend to make quite a stay here on the return trip from the east."

Al Kaufman sent one of his regular challenges to box Jeffries by way of Billy Delaney. The message was sent from Los Angeles, and Al said that he wants to put up $10,000 on the side. Jeffries simply smiled and said that he would take his own time about answering.

Busy.

Prof. Brander Matthews, the brilliant writer and teacher, was discussing literary quaintness at Columbia. In illustration of the quaint he said:

"A little girl I know was very bad one day. She was so bad that, other corrections failing, her mother took her to her room to whip her."

"During this proceeding the little girl's brother opened the door and was about to enter. But in her prone position across her mother's knee the little girl twisted around her head and said, severely:

"Eddie, go out! Can't you see we're busy?"

AT THE KENTUCKY.

Wednesday—"Texas."
Thursday—The Jeffersons in "The Rivals."
Saturday—(matinee and night)—"The Thief."

The late Joseph Jefferson played only twelve weeks each theatrical year, a season of eight weeks in the autumn and four in the spring. Between seasons his worthy son, Joseph and William W. Jefferson, toured the country presenting the father's favorite and foremost success, "The Rivals," a comedy classic, written by Richard Brinsley Sheridan in 1774. The success achieved by the Jefferson boys was of that lasting quality for which the name of Jefferson has long been famous, and for the past several years they have devoted their entire histrionic energies to a presentation of this brilliant comedy. The present season finds them continuing in "The Rivals." This attraction, in all its artistic thoroughness, comes to The Kentucky on Thursday, March 4.

Much has been written about the play, "The Thief," which is promised at The Kentucky Saturday afternoon and evening. The play tells the story of a wife who pitifully steals money to purchase dresses and adornments with which to continue charming her husband. Harassed by agony she confesses her guilt to him and pleads that she stole in order to possess his love. The play does not seem to justify her in that course, yet it shields her in a way, it is said.

Not the biggest, but one of the good minstrel attractions will be seen at The Kentucky on March 11. The latest songs, the newest music, enjoyable comedy and vaudeville numbers, not a word or action of an objectionable nature—a clean, first-class old-time minstrel performance which is too well known for comment.

Ask for Old Kind of Flour.

The secretary of agriculture has condemned bleached flour, and following his suggestion the millers' combination has announced its purpose of discontinuing the further milling of this article. It would consent to acquiesce in the yellow loaf instead of the white one. Possibly it may require a new adjustment of appetite, but the gains will more than compensate for the sacrifices. In the old days when even New Englanders raised their own wheat there was one product of the grain called "cauliflower," which in spite of its contemptuous title made the sweetest and most nutritious bread that came upon the farmers' table. If the millers can again exact this humble staple, future generations of healthy Americans will rise up and call them blessed.—Boston Transcript.

The great dramatic sensation

THE THIEF

By Henri Bernstein

As played for Ten Months at the Lyceum Theatre, New York.

"Every Lover of the drama should go and see 'The Thief'."

(Wm. Winter in the New York Tribune.)

Hale and Hearty at 94

Mrs. Laura B. Wheeler, Winsted, Conn., who is in her 94th year, says that she owes the health and vigor she enjoys to the judicious use of the world's greatest tonic-stimulant, Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. She recommends it for nervousness.

In June, 1908, Mrs. Wheeler wrote: "We are very glad to write you saying that we have been using Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey with marked improvement. Think it is a good remedy for nervousness. I am in my 94th year and am enjoying excellent health, thanks to your tonic stimulant and great medicine for the old."

Every testimonial is guaranteed genuine and is published in good faith with full consent.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

is the greatest strength builder and tonic stimulant known to medicine. It attacks the seat of the disease, drives out the germs and rebuilds the weakened tissues, in a gradual, healthy, natural manner. It is an absolute cure and preventive of consumption, pneumonia, grip, bronchitis, coughs, colds, malaria, low fevers and all wasting, weakened, diseased conditions, if taken in time.

It is invaluable for overworked men, delicate women and sickly children. It strengthens and sustains the system, is a promoter of health and longevity, makes the old young and keeps the young strong.

CAUTION.—When you ask your druggist, grocer or dealer for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. It is an absolutely pure medicinal malt whiskey and is sold in sealed bottles only—never in bulk. Look for the trade-mark, the "Old Chemist," on the label, and make sure the seal over the cork is unbroken. Price $1.00. Write Consulting Physician, Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. LEXINGTON

IS INTERESTED IN THE CENSUS ENUMERATION ALSO.

School Board Sends Committee to Louisville to Investigate Methods in Vogue There.

Lexington is interested in the census enumeration for school children, and according to the papers, the Lexington school board has sent a committee to Louisville to investigate the methods used in the metropolis of Kentucky. Louisville is said to have the most perfect method of securing all the names of children of school age. It is thought that the Lexington school board will adopt the plan of Louisville.

At the school board meeting last night the plan of Louisville was discussed by the trustees. Instead of one man, two men are sent over the same district. At the end of each day the two men compare names and from both lists it is possible to secure the name of almost every child in the district. The method of employing two men is more expensive, but is more thorough, as the name of each child means $2.60 to the schools.

Honor pupils for the month of February were announced this morning by Prof. W. H. Sugg, principal of the High School. A STARTLING STATEMENT.

New York Medical Authorities Claim Dyspepsia Causes Consumption.

The post mortem statistics of the big New York hospitals show that some cases of consumption are due to unchecked dyspepsia especially when the victim was predisposed to tuberculosis.

Dyspepsia wears out the body and brain, the weakened, irritable stomach is unable to digest food, the body does not receive the required nourishment, constipation ensues, and the victim becomes thin, weak and haggard. As a result the body becomes a fertile field for the germs of disease to lodge and flourish.

Therefore the person who permits dyspepsia to progress unhindered is guilty of contributing toward the development of one of the most insidious and fatal diseases known to mankind.

Dyspepsia is curable if properly treated. W. B. McPherson sells a remedy which he positively guarantees will cure indigestion or dyspepsia or he will pay for all the medicine used during the trial. This remedy is an absolutely new medical discovery and has been named Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. Certainly no other could be more fair, and the offer of W. B. McPherson is proof positive that Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are a dependable and infallible remedy. Inasmuch as the medicine will cost you nothing if it does not benefit you we urge you who are suffering with indigestion or dyspepsia to try this remedy. A twenty-five cent box of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets contains enough medicine for fifteen days' treatment. Remember Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are only sold in Paducah by W. B. McPherson.

Our prices are very reasonable, and we should like to figure with you on any proposed work.

SCHOOL FOR DEAF SHORT OF FUNDS

Payment Refused by State on Warrant For $20,000.

Governor May Recommend "Daylight Saving" Bill in His Next Message.

DEMOCRAT APPOINTED JUDGE.

Frankfort, Ky., March 3.—Unless the state pays a warrant for $20,631, due for running expenses during the last three months, the Kentucky School for the Deaf at Danville will have to close its doors and send back to their homes some hundreds of gifts and boys. At present the school is flat broke, not having a cent on which to run and is unable to raise money, either by borrowing or on the warrants of the state. The condition of affairs is very serious and those interested in the school are much worried.

Payment of the warrant was refused here today on the ground that the state did not have any money to meet the claim, although some general warrants would not be paid, but the schools and charitable institutions would be cared for. This was meant to include the insane asylums and the feeble-minded institute, but one institution, which is not a charitable one although placed on that general footing, seems to have been left out of the reckoning. The school at Danville is supported by the state and draws its allowance only once every three months. Judge C. R. McDowell, one of the trustees of the school, was here today trying to get money and said the situation is a serious one.

Daylight Saving Bill.
In order to save daylight and have the business of the day transacted in the light of the sun instead of by artificial light, a movement which took shape in England has spread to this country and Gov. Willson is seriously considering recommending such a measure for Kentucky. It is possible that a bill carrying into effect the idea of daylight saving may be introduced in the next legislature. The idea is to set the clocks forward one hour, beginning April 1 and set them back again on September 1. Gov. Willson today received a letter from London, England, explaining the plan and suggesting that it be adopted in Kentucky.

Prof. Crabbe Back.
A saving of $47,000 to the state resulted from the recent agitation to have the Western Normal school removed from Bowling Green, as the owners of the property in Bowling Green, which was desired by the board of regents, came down that much in the price they had asked for the land. Prof. J. G. Crabbe, superintendent of public instruction, returned today from Chicago and Bowling Green. He was in Chicago to attend a meeting of the department of superintendents of the Educational Association.

Prof. Crabbe said that the board of regents had paid $50,000 for Potter college and had bought 106 acres of land in addition, for which they had paid $29,000, making a total expenditure of $79,000. The price originally asked for this property was greatly in excess of what was actually paid for it. So many other cities wanted the school and made so strong efforts to get it from Bowling Green that the owners of the property sliced off a big sum. A new building to cost $75,000 is to be built for the Western Normal.

HON. CHRIS MUELLER DIES AT HOME IN LOUISVILLE.

Louisville, Ky., March 3.—Christian Mueller, who for years had served as Democratic representative from the Forty-sixth legislative district, died at 11 o'clock Monday night at his home in Louisville after an illness which covered almost four years.

Third-Class Passengers.
In the street car of a large city, where public sentiment unquestionably forbids any division of passengers into "classes" at different rates of fare, the presence of the passenger who is so uncivilized in his ideas of a passenger's own rights and duties toward other passengers as to be considered properly a third-class passenger, is too notorious a fact to be questioned. From time to time complaints are made by passengers of carelessness or flagrant rudeness shown to passengers by street car conductors or motormen, and too many of us have learned by experience that such things happen; but we must admit that a little something can be said for the conductor who has to deal with such a very mixed lot of persons. His duties are manifold, and his running schedule fixed; he has much to contend with, and no schooling except at the expense of the passengers, in the difficult art of dealing quickly with many hundreds of separate persons in a day.—New York Evening Sun.

BONDING COMPANY MUST PAY EXPENSES

If Any Are Incurred in Collecting Shortage.

Fiscal Court Refuses to Allow Pay to Committee While on Eastern Junket.

COST TO COUNTY WAS $300

Dull monotony was broken in the session of the fiscal court yesterday afternoon when the check of the Title Guaranty and Surety company, in payment for the alleged shortage of Hiram Smedley, former county court clerk, was refused. The meeting became lively and the debate was animated. The session ended by the last straw of compromise being thrown away, and County Attorney Alben Barkley was ordered by the court to file any suit necessary or prosecute any suit already filed that sought to recover money due the county by Hiram Smedley.

The breach was a surprise to the members and spectators, as the compromise was cut and dried and it was expected easy sailing. Attorney John G. Miller, Sr., representing the company, stated that he was ready to pay to the county a check for $1,580.52, but he wanted a resolution adopted by the court. The resolution in substance read that the settlement would be final and that the bonding company would not be held liable for any other shortage that might be found in the office, and also that the company would be protected from any suits that W. M. Husbands, revenue agent, might file and secure judgment. The fireworks were started by the motion of Magistrate C. W. Emery to refuse to accept the check, and the discussion became lively and spirited rejoinders were made by several speakers. County Judge R. T. Lightfoot strenuously opposed the acceptance of the check under the conditions, asserting that if Mr. Husbands secured judgment for the shortage that the county, and not the bonding company, would be responsible for his fee, which would be about $325. It was the opinion of the members of the court that Mr. Husbands, as state revenue agent, had authority to file the suit to recover funds due the county without the consent of the fiscal court, but the court did not want to leave the county liable for the fee should the higher courts decide that his fee should be allowed.

A resolution was offered that the county would make the final settlement with the bonding company for $1,580.52 if the company would agree to pay any fee that Mr. Husbands might secure, but this was not satisfactory to the counsel, and was rejected. Both the bonding company and the county wanted to escape a long-winded litigation, but the effort at compromise was a failure. Magistrate Emery said the court had dealt fairly with the company and his motion, carried unanimously to refuse the check.

Another lively tilt between the members was the presentation of the bill of Magistrate Emery, Broadfoot and Bleich for committee work, which was understood to be for work done while away on the trip east to inspect road machinery. Magistrate Emery said he put in the bill because the money allowed for the trip was not sufficient, but Magistrates Bleich and Broadfoot contended that their work was done in the county. However, the payment for the committee work was withdrawn. For committee work $300 was allowed for each day. Judge R. T. Lightfoot announced from the bench that there was too much committee work being carried on and that he would rearrange the committees.

It was stated in open court that $300 was allowed by the county for the committee, consisting of Magistrates C. W. Emery, George Broadfoot, and Bert Johnson, county road supervisor, to make the trip east to inspect road machinery, but that the members split expenses and took Magistrate J. J. Bleich along. It was the expression of the court that any expense over $300, which was allowed by the members themselves.

The Test That Tells.

Dothan, Ala., Jan. 21, 1909.
Dr. Kilmer & Co., Birmingham, N. Y.
Gentlemen:—About one year ago two of my children suffered badly from weak kidneys and diabetes; their urine was very bad and they would have severe spells of dizziness, and were all run down in health. I tried just about every remedy, but several remedies and finally a doctor, but they did not seem to improve. I knew of a friend who was taking Swamp-Root for kidney trouble with good results, and I decided to get some for the children. I noticed there was some improvement after they had taken two large bottles, and continued to give it to them until they had taken a half dozen bottles and were well on the road to recovery. I think Swamp-Root has done more for my children than any other medicine I have tried and I recommend it to mine having children who suffered as mine did.

Beneficial in Severe Cases.

Edgefield, Tenn.
Dr. Kilmer & Co., Birmingham, N. Y.
Gentlemen:—I hardly know how to express my appreciation for the good your Swamp-Root has done me. I had been greatly troubled with my kidneys, and with pain in the back; also with what the doctors termed inflammation of the neck of the bladder. Sometimes my back would get in such shape that I was almost helpless. I had tried several doctors and medicines to no good effect, and finally I noticed in some paper where Dr. Kilmer proposed to send a sample bottle of his kidney medicine, Swamp Root, free by mail. I sent at once and received promptly a sample bottle. After taking it I found it did me good. I then purchased two bottles from our merchant, W. J. Blair. After taking the medicine I felt like a new man, and each day rode five miles to teach school. You are at liberty to use this letter, or refer anyone to me, as I will always be glad to tell them what a wonderful remedy this Swamp-Root is. Mr. James Ivens, of Sandersville, Tenn., is taking it with good results.

Dr. Kilmer & Co., Birmingham, N. Y.
Dear Sirs:—Have been suffering more or less from kidney trouble for the last five years and was induced to try your Swamp-Root. Am happy to say, or give you testimonial, that it has cured me. I am a traveling salesman for Messrs. Colgate & Co., New York, and am always traveling on the road. Drinking the different waters affected my kidneys. Yours respectfully,
SAMUEL WOLF.

A Prominent Mason.

Jackson, Tenn.
According to my experience, I do not consider there is anything to equal Swamp-Root for kidney affection.

Twice it relieved me when I was completely helpless. The last time I was traveling in Texas, when my kidneys became affected, and for ten days I suffered excruciating pains, accompanied with severe chills. Several years previous, having been relieved of a similar attack, I naturally sought relief as before from Swamp-Root.

After using four of the large size bottles, I was completely restored and went on my way rejoicing and praising Swamp-Root. This was three years ago and I have had no indication of a return of the affliction.
J. C. SMITH, Jr., 33rd Mason.

Fully Satisfied.

Dr. Kilmer & Co., Birmingham, N. Y.
Dear Sirs:—During last October I suffered from my kidneys.

I consulted my physician, who prescribed for me, but his treatment did not benefit me. After reading some Swamp-Root literature, I decided to give it a trial. After taking a few doses, I felt somewhat relieved, and after two one-dollar bottles had been taken, I had no pain and was completely cured. I have not had the slightest pain in my back or hips since. From my own experience, I can cheerfully recommend Swamp-Root to anyone suffering from kidney trouble.

Yours very truly,
SIMON MARTIN.

The Value of a Remedy is Proven By Its Sales.

Elkwood, Ala., Dec. 14, 1908.
Dr. Kilmer & Co., Birmingham, N. Y.
Dear Sirs:—I have derived such great benefit from the use of your remedy, Swamp-Root, that I believe it to be most important for the public to know its worth. For the past ten years I have been the most miserable of men. Did not know what the trouble was but had to urinate very frequently both day and night; was all puffed up generally. Could not sleep more than a couple of hours at a time, was greatly distressed after eating a meal and was about worn out. I had tried nearly everything I could see advertised and hear of, without helping me to any great extent, until finally in October last at Ripan, Wis., I purchased a one dollar bottle of Swamp-Root and commenced taking it according to directions and I followed that with another bottle and experienced such great relief and benefit from same that I purchased five dollars worth at Huntsville, Ala., and continued its use and am now taking it, but in smaller doses and twice a day in place of four times a day and believe by the time present supply is used up I will be entirely well. I am feeling better now than for ten years past. Can eat and sleep first class. In fact I am feeling so good that I cannot resist telling you about it. You are at liberty to publish this testimonial should you wish.

Very Respectfully,
THOS. STALLARD, U. S. A., Retired
Box 7, R. R. No. 2, Elkwood, Ala.

New Roads, La., Jan. 22, 1909.
Dr. Kilmer & Co., Birmingham, N. Y.
Dear Sirs:—I write today to the public that your Swamp-Root cured me of kidney trouble. I was almost past going; having spasmodic spells with my kidneys that were breaking down my constitution. The best medical aid was employed and they pronounced my trouble as alkali in the kidneys, but were unable to do me any permanent good.

I took four bottles of Swamp-Root and became a well man. This was six years ago and I have had no trace of the trouble. Yours for suffering men,
REV. J. R. TAYLOR,
Pastor Baptist Church, New Roads, La.

Mail Carrier's Experience.

Blountville, Tenn.
I have been a rural letter carrier for over five years. Some two years ago I was taken with severe pains in my back. I used medicine from my family physician for several months without any benefit. A friend, Mr. J. D. Nelson, advised me to try your Swamp-Root, but I had no faith in it. I continued to grow worse and at last decided to try this remedy and bought of Long Bros. a fifty-cent bottle which gave me great relief. I bought two one-dollar bottles, which I can truthfully say have completely cured me.

Had it not been for Swamp-Root, I would have been compelled to quit the rural free delivery service.

I advise all mail carriers who get pains in their back that Swamp-Root will cure them.

I was so bad that very often my wife would have to help me to arise.

M. B. HENDRICKSON,

A Contractor.

Donalsonville, Ga., Jan. 20, 1909.
Dr. Kilmer & Co., Birmingham, N. Y.
Gentlemen:—About four years ago I suffered from kidney trouble and rheumatism in my hips. The pain across my back became so severe that I could hardly straighten up and could not walk without dragging my feet. I would urinate frequently and would have to rise two or three times during the night, causing me to suffer from loss of sleep. And with the pain I was all run down and began to lose flesh. I saw Swamp-Root advertised and bought one bottle to try it. After taking it I felt better and could sleep all right at night. I continued to take it until I had taken four large bottles. I was entirely free from any pain in the back and began to gain in weight. I always recommend Swamp-Root to my friends as I think the cure in my case remarkable.

Yours very truly,
M. H. HICKSON, Donalsonville, Ga.

Every mail brings many unsolicited testimonials from people from all over the United States and foreign lands, expressing heartfelt gratitude for what Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root has done for them.

Do not let anyone sell you some other medicine to take the place of Swamp Root—if you do you will be disappointed—insist on getting what you ask for—there is no other medicine as good as Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

Daily Thought.

The most eloquent prayers for the needy are the ones we carry to them in baskets.

Mr. Taft announced his belief in "equal rights for women" before the election. He is putting his theories in practice at his inauguration.

The New York engineer who sold a first edition copy of Isaac Walton for $3,900, is entitled to the trophy for the first fish story of the season.

Verily the south is drying up. Arkansas is the latest state to pass a state-wide measure. There were evidently a host of druggists in the legislature, as the measure gives them a monopoly of the traffic.

Wisconsin's legislators learned a lesson from the Tennessee brethren. The Anti-Stephenson men fled the state the other day following the example of the southerners, in an effort to prevent his election.

Through the efforts of country newspapers in New York 3,000 of the unemployed in New York City found places on farms last year. There is no lack of room for willing workers in the rural regions of Kentucky and other states.

Taft is starting out to break some precedents himself. Mrs. Taft and Mrs. Sherman are to ride in the carriages with their husbands in the inaugural parade tomorrow. This is the first time ladies have been so honored before. But why not?

Preparations for the induction of William Howard Taft into the presidency are complete and the various committees in Washington say that the ceremonies of the day will be more brilliant and picturesque than any previous inaugural event.

A $50,000 monument in memory of President James A. Garfield is proposed in a bill introduced by Representative Langley, of Kentucky. The measure provides that the monument shall be erected on or near the Middle Creek battlefield in Floyd county, Kentucky.

After deliberating more than sixty hours the jury in the case of Councilmen Klein, Wasson and Brand, of Pittsburgh, returned a verdict finding them guilty of graft. W. W. Ramsey, the former banker, was found not guilty on instructions from the court.

Those truant Tennessee legislators are causing all kinds of worry. Their absence breaks a quorum, and no appropriation bills to replenish a depleted treasury can be passed. All appropriation bills expire on the 19th of this month, hence all salaries and every item of expense will be held up.

At last a forestry bill has passed congress, the Appalachian and White Mountain bill passing the lower house Monday with a scant ten votes to spare. This measure, in one form or another, has been before congress for six or seven years. It always passed the senate but has been held up every time in the lower house. Its friends have never despaired, however, and every session has brought it up again. The opposition to the measure claimed it was freighted with graft, but this is the usual charge. Its passage will be good news to friends of conservation all over the country.

VANISHING SECTIONALISM.

The name of Jefferson Davis is to be placed on the tablet on Cabin John bridge again. No one cares much for the bridge or for the run that is spanned by it. But the incident is significant. The bridge was built when Mr. Davis was secretary of war. His name was placed on the tablet attached to it at the time of construction. During the Civil war, under government orders, the name was chiseled off. After forty years it is ordered restored, says the Chicago Tribune.

A speaker at a banquet on Washington's birthday proclaimed a new south and a new north. "The north of Summer, Ben Wade and Thad Stevens, breathing vengeance and passion against the south, has given way to the north of Charles Francis Adams, William McKinley and William Howard Taft, breathing nothing but loving kindness." That rounded sentence tells the truth. The attitude of the north toward the south has changed radically during recent years. Now, how about the attitude of the south?

The March number of Uncle Remus' Home Magazine contains an editorial utterance by Julian Harris which discusses the shattering of the "solid south." The position is maintained that the movement for this must come from within. The south must be broken up as a political unit. Men must vote their principles instead of being swayed by passion.

A visible evidence of this change is all that is needed to make the last remnant of sectionalism vanish. It is particularly gratifying that the friendly feeling between north and south should be so marked in the year of special commemoration of Abraham Lincoln. A southerner himself, and living in Illinois, then essentially a southern state, he looked with sorrow of soul upon the "wayward sisters" as they departed. His last public address told of a new announcement he was soon to make looking toward restoration. Death came before the announcement was made, but death marked the beginning of a movement for reconciliation which all like to talk about now. What Lincoln's influence has been in favor of breaking down sectional barriers no one can over estimate.

The greetings from the south are appreciated and reciprocated. But, as Mr. Harris points out, the real forward step must be made by the south itself. If the coming Taft administration is marked by the breaking of the "solid south" and the elimination of every sectional line, there will be hearty rejoicing everywhere.

DISCUSSION

OF INTERESTING SUBJECTS ARRANGED BY MINISTERS.

A. O. Colley and George H. Creams Will Engage in Debate at Christian Chapel.

Beginning on March 8, at 7 p. m., there will be a religious discussion for six evenings at Christian chapel on Goebel avenue.

Proposition first is that the scriptures teach that water baptism is a scripturally regarded subject to a condition of pardon of past or alien sins of today. A. O. Colley, affirmative; George H. Creams, negative.

Second, the scriptures teach that a scripturally regarded subject has salvation prior to and independent of water baptism. George H. Creams, affirmative; A. O. Colley, negative.

Third, the scriptures teach the water baptism and the Lord's Supper belong to and are required by the new covenant. A. O. Colley, affirmative; George H. Creams, negative.

Fourth, the scriptures teach that the baptism of the Holy Ghost is essential to salvation from past or alien sins of today. George H. Creams, affirmative; A. O. Colley, negative.

This is to be a friendly investigation of the scriptures. Come, let us reason together.

Democratic Club.

The second meeting of the Democratic club was held last night at the temporary headquarters on South Fourth street. The committee appointed at the first meeting to secure by-laws and a name asked for another week, and this was granted. Another committee to secure a permanent meeting place was appointed. The mittie consisted of: Alderman Ernest Lackey, City Treasurer George W. Walters, and Councilman Al Foreman.

Distinguished Visitor.

Governor E. P. Noel, of Mississippi, and part of his staff passed through Paducah early this morning en route to Louisville, from where they will leave over the Baltimore & Ohio railroad for Washington to attend the inauguration. The party had two special coaches. Besides the governor and his wife there were a number of prominent Mississippians on board the train.

CITY BASEBALL LEAGUE PROMISED

Will be Organized at End of Basketball Season

Silver Cup Will Be Presented to the Team Winning City Basketball Championship.

SEASON WILL END APRIL 1.

When the end of the basketball season of the city basketball league is reached it is planned to have the league developed into a city baseball league for a promotion of sports in the city during the summer. Since it is felt certain that there will not be any inter-city baseball league it is proposed to feed the hungry fans with good games between the city teams, and have a standing, awarding the victor a pennant which would stimulate interest.

The basketball league will end April 1, and in the meanwhile some lively games are anticipated. The managers of the league have decided to give the winning team a silver cup. The winning team will be engraved on it, and each year the silver trophy will be contested for. With one month remaining for games no team has a cinch on the top rung of the ladder and some of the best games are yet to come. It is when the teams are neck and neck and on the home stretch that the enthusiasm is at the highest and the attendance at the city basketball games is expected to pick up.

Already preparations have been begun for baseball. The Elks have begun work on a team, while the Chess, Checker and Whist club is just as certain to be represented on the diamond. Also the Knights of Columbus will follow the plan of last year, and probably several other teams will be in the field when the umpire marches to the box and calls "play ball."

It is planned by the promoters of the city league to enlarge the basketball teams into nines, as most of the basketball players are all around athletes and are at home on the diamond. The plan seems a good one, and doubtless will go through. The only drawback to the games, which would be played at about the rate of two or three a week, is that many of the players are unable to get off work in the afternoon regularly, but it is hoped to arrange this difficulty satisfactorily.

Tonight the Light and Power team will lineup against the High school, while the second game will be between the Knights of Columbus and the Elks.

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

There appears to be an opinion among some people that there ought to be thanks enough to go round whether there is turkey enough or not.

HEY, BOSS—ANYTHING ELSE I CAN DO?

Serving a man well isn't at all a bad way to delicately let him know that you are expecting a rise in salary.

It is hard to convince a woman that fashion is a horrid thing when the prevailing style happens to be becoming to her.

Don't knock; the sound you make may produce a ringing in your ears the next morning and leave its mark about your eye.

When a girl takes a great interest in housework and wants to learn how to bake bread "Who is the man?" is a pertinent question.

Being married keeps the majority of men so busy that they have no time to be sports.

If they are worrying over your affairs, take it as calmly as you can and be thankful that you haven't got to worry over theirs.

To Sample It.

I'd like to get lost in a millionaire's shoes. At least for a minute or two.

To find if the place were as nice as it seems.

Too right and fine to be true. To toss off a check without any concern.

Or fear of its face, wouldn't you?

I'd like to be there for a day and a half. His check book a toy in my hand.

That furnished the means should I feel so disposed.

To buy everything in the land. An aeroplane, auto or any old thing.

My strong constitution would stand.

Say, maybe I wouldn't in luxury's lap. Sit round while my sentence held good.

Enjoying each moment for all I was worth.

And right on the job sawing wood. And ordering all I could think of or wish.

In language the cook understood!

I think I would purchase sixteen suits of clothes.

A shoe store, a dozen of hats. And overcoats—well, perhaps ten for a start.

And all I could find in cravats. And everything else in proportion or style.

From glasses, gold mounted, to spats.

That's only a starter; the list's without end.

But what in a day could one do? To think about quitting and giving it up.

Would make one feel pensive and blue. I'd like to be Croesus or John D. But, say,

I'd hate to drop back, wouldn't you?

May Have Been Method.

"What in the world happened to your watch?"

"Run over by a steam roller."

"So careless of the driver?"

"Maybe he wanted to kill time."

Still Undecided.

It is yet to be demonstrated that a balloon coming east from the Pacific coast has the Los Angeles Limited beaten to a frazzle. The gas car appears to have a tendency to play around in the eddies caused by the mountain ranges and thus make the captains of the craft late for the supper he has ordered in Boston.

A successful trip of that sort would cause the man who is eternally remarking on the smallness of the world to remark some more.

He would at once begin speculating on the possibilities of living in Los Angeles and doing business in Boston, though at the present time the man who sets out with a late start and a heated imagination for his happy western home is liable to find himself in the morning dangling from one of the desolate mountain peaks that stick up on the way. As an exact science air navigation at present lacks some of the qualities of exactness.

Putting It Mildly.

COLORED CITIZENS FORM ORGANIZATION

For the Betterment of Their Race.

Laxity of Home Government Declared Responsible for Prevalence of Crime.

THEY WILL MEET EACH MONTH.

A mass meeting of the better class of colored people was held at the Seventh Street Methodist church last night for the discussion of ways and means of educating the members of the race that the present reign of crime would be stopped.

Forceful addresses were made by several of the pastors of the city, and before adjournment "The Forum" was organized which will meet monthly for a further discussion of the subject.

The next meeting will be held at the Seventh street church Tuesday night, when a permanent organization will be formed.

The following resolutions were adopted last night: Resolved, that we, the colored citizens of Paducah, have the honor to submit the following:

Whereas, We have assembled as peaceable and peace-loving citizens to consider the ugly conditions existing among us, as evidenced in large part by the recent murders committed by our people in the city, and to discuss ways and means to improve the moral condition of our people with a view to lessening the crimes which have shocked the good people of our city.

Be it resolved, That we deeply deplore the wave of crime that has swept over the city. That we are aggrieved, embarrassed and deeply concerned as citizens of Paducah in general, and as colored citizens in particular, since in most of the too many crimes the factors have been members of our own race.

And be it resolved, That the frequency and nature of these crimes, and the attendant circumstances lead us to assert that the ultimate and principal causes are laxity in home government, parental leniency and indulgence, illegal cohabitation of men and women, illiteracy and that indifference, callousness and disrespect for law and order and right, that always attend living and moving in immoral society.

And be it further resolved, That we who do not condone wrong-doing, even among members of our own household, do all we can, both individually and collectively, and through the instrumentality of our churches, schools, societies and other organizations, to checkmate the evils existing among us and so lessen the crimes that cast undesired discredit upon us and hang as a mill-stone about the neck of the race.

Further be it resolved, That we organize ourselves into a body to be styled "The Forum," which shall meet monthly, on a Sunday afternoon convenient for the coming together of all the congregations of our city churches, and whose object shall be to take constant note of the conditions and needs of our people; to allow opportunity for free and open discussion of these conditions and needs; and to take such steps and measures, and to initiate such enterprises and movements as will promote the religious, moral, educational, civic and temporal welfare of our people. Respectfully submitted,

Like Kentucky Hospitality.
Hopkinsville, Ky., March 3.—With each succeeding day the eight transient senators from Tennessee are enjoying their stay here more and more, and show no desire to return to Nashville. They say that they will remain away just as long as the legislature remains in session. Last night R. P. Webb, of Nashville, and Representatives Carden, Puryear and Stewart came over, bringing bulky law books with them. These were closely studied and the runaways say they cannot be arrested unless the senate is actually in session at the time.

Williams Graham, parents of the bride, 133 South Fourth street. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. J. R. Henry, of the Kentucky Avenue Presbyterian church. It will be a quiet affair and the couple will leave at 6 o'clock for a wedding trip to New Orleans and other southern cities. They will make Paducah their home.

Inaugural Gown.
Mrs. William Howard Taft has authorized the publication of the description of her inaugural gown. The gown will be of white chiffon, embroidered in silver, the design outlined being that of the golden rod, which Mrs. Taft chose because it has now come to be regarded as the national flower. The body of the gown will be heavy white satin and the distinguishing feature will be a long court train, heavily embroidered. The neck and sleeves will be executed in point lace. Mrs. Taft's ornaments will be a pearl dog collar, with a spray of diamonds in her hair.

Miss Helen Taft will wear a girlish frock of white mousseline de soie, with light blue ribbons. Everybody has been predicting that Miss Helen would surely wear pink at her father's inaugural ball as this is her favorite color, but she has reverted to the white, and her frock will be exceedingly simple in design.

U. D. C. Chapter.
The Paducah chapter United Daughters of the Confederacy held its regular meeting for March on Tuesday afternoon at the Woman's club house. Much of the business session was devoted to a discussion and preliminary arrangements for the unveiling of the Confederate monument in Confederate circle. Several out-of-town speakers will be secured and all of the ex-Confederates in this part of the state are expected to attend the unveiling. A barbecue probably will be given for the entertainment of the guests. Dr. Murrell spoke to the chapter about some further improvement to the park, which he has recommended to the park commissioners. It was announced that both of Gen. Tilghman's sons, and Mr. Kitson, the artist who designed the monument, would attend the unveiling.

he again identified this pistol. It was in the same condition, being new as it was when it came from the shop, showing that it had not been fired. It was further identified by Sergeant Meadows, of the police department, as the same pistol he took from Colonel Cooper that night.

On this proof, the defense contents that Colonel Cooper, with his identified gun, never fired a shot, that Senator Carmack, with the Vertrees gun, fired twice and that Robin Cooper, with the Robin Jones gun, fired three times.

Having introduced other witnesses to show that five shots were fired, the defense then openly charged that the first two shots were fired by Senator Carmack, and that the three quick shots were fired by Robin Cooper.

State Without Theory.

What evidence it has, how successful it will be, what theory it will proceed upon, what it will attempt to prove, or disprove remains to be seen. The story will soon be told in its entirety. The defendants' story, so long withheld from the public, has been vividly interesting and has been practically told in full.

The rebuttal will be bitter, and after it is concluded, the defense will conclude its case finally with a brief line of sur-rejoinder testimony, after which the argument will be opened.

Corn.

People often wonder, particularly those who have traveled for hundreds of miles through the corn belt, what becomes of corn which is grown every year. In the year 1908, when the total crop was 2,666,000,000 bushels, 241,000,000 bushels were consumed in flour and grist mill products, 800,000 bushels in the manufacture of starch, 9,000,000 for malt liquors, 17,000,000 bushels in the production of distilled liquors, 40,000,000 for glucose, 190,000,000 for export and 13,000,000 for seed, making a total of 518,000,000 bushels, or 19.3 per cent of the entire crop. The remaining 80.7 per cent, or 2,118,000,000 bushels, seems to have been used almost entirely for feeding purposes.—Corn Reporter.

WILL MAKE MORE THOROUGH CANVASS

For Names of Children in City of School Age.

Board of Education Will Deduct Five Cents for Each Child Missed by Enumerators.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

It is the intention of the school board to secure the name of every child of school age in the city, and last night at the regular meeting the census enumeration was a live topic. The finances of the school demand that every dollar due should be paid and the trustees intend to make the city with a fine comb after children of school age for it means dollars to the board, whether the children are in school or not. The trustees were free to confess that the enumeration last year was a failure, and this year in order to eliminate any trouble the taking of the census was left with the committee on boundaries.

Suggestions from the members were numerous, some favoring securing a directory company to take the census, while others to employ two reliable men instead of dividing the city into many districts and assigning one man a certain territory. A plan to make the enumerators work better was a system used several years ago when a child is missed by the enumerators five cents is deducted from his salary. The committee felt able to make a careful enumeration, and it was given to the members with Secretary A. T. Sutherland to co-operate with the committee.

Chairs Needed.

President W. J. Hills wants to encourage the visits of parents to the schools, but not at the expense of having the visitors stand up or rob the teacher of her chair. There is a lack of chairs in the school rooms of the buildings which President Hills found out after a visit to the buildings. He thought it advisable to provide each room with three chairs for use when visitors visit the children. It was figured that the cost of a substantial chair for the rooms would amount to about $200. No steps towards purchasing the chairs were taken, but the members will investigate the cost.

An expert furnace examiner has examined the Longfellow and McKinley buildings, and pronounced the heating plants in good condition. Several rooms in the buildings are cold, and it is impossible to heat the rooms to a sufficient temperature on cold days. The examiner made several suggestions that the proper heat might be secured, although the formal report from the company has not been received.

The finance committee made its report and bills amounting to $401.77 and salaries to the amount of $53,323.21 were allowed by the board. A balance of $2,367 is left in the treasury of the board. The finance committee reported the inability to secure some of the bills in time for verification, and consequently some accounts were not allowed.

Superintendent Carnagey reported that he had $5.60 in his possession which he had collected as a penalty from a janitor for leaving a window open. He was instructed to refund it to the secretary of the board. The report of the committee on rules was adopted, and the supervision of the janitors was placed in the hands of Mr. Fred Hoyer, the superintendent of buildings. He will have power to employ janitors if necessary, and discharge them for lack of duty.

The purchase of books for indigent children was discussed by the board.

Ten Doctors Said He Would Die

"In 1903 we wrote you regarding my husband, who was suffering from heart trouble. He was superannuated by the North Georgian Conference. Ten doctors at different times said he would die. You advised Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy and Restorative Nervine; we did as advised, and improvement was apparent from the very first. He recovered and the Conference in 1904 gave him a charge. He never felt better, although he has very heavy work and does a great deal of camp meeting work. I am so glad we took your advice and gave him the medicine, and feel that I ought to let you know of the wonderful good results from its use."

MRS. T. S. EDWARDS, Milner, Ga.

This proves what Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy will do. Get a bottle from your druggist and take it according to directions. It does not matter whether your heart is merely weak, or you have organic trouble, if it does not benefit you take the empty bottle to your druggist and get your money back.

INDIGESTION GOES IN FIVE MINUTES

If You Had Some Diapiesin All Stomach Trouble Would Go.

The question as to how long you are going to continue a sufferer from indigestion and stomach trouble is merely a matter of how soon you begin taking Diapiesin.

If your stomach is lacking in digestive power, why not help the stomach to do its work, not with drastic drugs, but a re-enforcement of digestive agents, such as are naturally at work in the stomach.

People with weak stomachs should eat Diapiesin after meals, and there will be no more indigestion, no feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, no heartburn, sour risings, gas on stomach, or belching of undigested food, Headaches, Dizziness or Vomiting, and, besides, what you eat will not ferment and poison your breath with nauseous odors. All these symptoms resulting from a sour stomach and dyspepsia are generally relieved five minutes after eating one Triangle of Diapiesin.

Go to your druggist and get a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin now, and you will always go to the table with a hearty appetite and what you eat will taste good, because your stomach and intestines will be clean and fresh, and you will know there are not going to be any more bad nights and miserable days for you. They freshen you and make you feel like life is worth living.

and although the trustees thought a careful scrutiny should be made of each case, it was the expression of the board that no deserving child should be kept from an education for the expense of a few dollars for books. The bill this year for indigents will amount to about $100, an increase over last year. The reports of Superintendent Carnagey and Fred Hoyer, superintendent of buildings, were received.

At the next meeting in April the principals for the next year will be elected, while in May the teachers will be elected. The committee on teachers will act in co-operation with Superintendent Carnagey, and consider the applications.

The report of Superintendent Carnagey was:

Supt. Carnagey's Report.

"I submit herewith my report for the school month ending February 26, 1909. This month covers the sixth month of the year, and the first month of the second semester.

The total enrollment for February is 2939.

The daily attendance is 2,529.

The number of withdrawals is 226.

The number of cases of tardiness is 398.

The number of truancy cases is 4.

The number of corporal punishment cases is 5.

The attendance has been irregular during the month on account of the absence of children who were vaccinated and had sore arms.

The number of 6-year-old children who entered during the month—the regular entering time for new children—is considerably below that of one year ago.

This decrease is due, I think, to the fact that parents are holding their children out on account of the contagious diseases that have prevailed, and are still existing in the city. The school work of the month has been good. There was much less friction in starting than there was one year ago, and in a very few days after the opening of the semester the school was moving on as if there had been no change of pupils and classes. The spirit of both teachers and pupils is good, and in spite of the uncertainty caused by the fear of the spread of epidemic diseases we are doing good work in the school room.

Irregular attendance on the part of pupils is a serious handicap to their progress, and adds, moreover, to the work of the teacher. I believe many parents are giving serious attention to the attendance of their children at school, but far too many are apparently indifferent to the matter until a failure to make the grade necessary to pass to a higher class on the part of one of their children calls their attention to it and then, I regret to have to say it, the parents are often unreasonable toward the teacher, blaming her for the failure, when the fault is entirely the parents'.

Parents who examine every month the report taken home by the child should have no excuse for not knowing the attendance and standing in studies of their children.

Teachers are expected to do much in school work, but they should not be held responsible for those things that are a part of every parent's duty.

Present at last night's meeting were: Trustees Hills, Clements, Ferguson, Jacobs, Judd, Karnes, Kelly, Niehaus, Pettit, Price, Treadway, Winstead and Secretary Sutherland.

Robins in South Carolina.

The wanton slaughter of robins has aroused South Carolina to such an extent that the state is to have a new game law. A few years ago a modernized game law was passed in Missouri, but the pot hunters and illicit dealers raised such a roar that the game warden was deprived, by a new law, of the power to do anything.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A positive assertion may silence argument, even if it doesn't convince.

SPOKANE RATE CASE DECIDED

Interstate Commerce Commission Upholds Spokane

Rates From Missouri River Points to Seattle Were Less Than to Spokane.

CONSIDERED ONE YEAR AGO

Washington, March 3.—By a unanimous opinion of the interstate commerce commission decided what is known as the Spokane rate case in favor of the contentions of the shippers of Spokane, Wash.

The case has been under consideration approximately a year and a half. For many months the commission has been endeavoring to reach a determination of the intricate points involved, but not until a few days ago was an agreement possible. The opinion of the commission was prepared by Commissioner Prouty.

It is pointed out that nearly all commodities shipped to the Pacific coast move under commodity rates, and these were the principal subjects of complaint upon the part of Spokane. Rates from all points on the Missouri river to Seattle are the same, while the rates from the same points to Spokane usually are considerably higher than to Seattle, and they increase as the point of origin lies farther east.

As illustrative of this condition, the complaint referred to 32 articles. The decision holds the commission can fix rates only upon the articles enumerated. The cut in rates ordered is horizontal and amounts to only 6 or 8 per cent.

In the hearing the cost of reproducing the properties of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific, their financial history, their present capitalization and their earnings in recent years, were fully considered.

A Cure for Misery.

It breaks up a case of chills or a bilious attack in almost no time; and it puts yellow jaundice clean out of commission." This great tonic medicine and blood purifier gives quick relief in all stomach, liver and kidney complaints and the misery of lame back. Sold under guarantee at all druggists.

—Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co.

What does this sign mean?

It means that public inspection of the laboratory and methods of doing business is honestly desired. It means that there is nothing about the Pinkham business which is not "open and above-board."

It means that a permanent invitation is extended to anyone to come and verify the statements made in the advertisements of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made exclusively from roots and herbs?

Come and See for Yourself.

Do the women of America continually use as much of it as we are told?

Come and See for Yourself.

Was there ever such a person as Lydia E. Pinkham, and is there any Mrs. Pinkham now to whom sick women are asked to write?

Is the vast private correspondence with sick women conducted by women only, and are the letters kept strictly confidential?

Come and See for Yourself.

Have they really got letters from more than a million women?

Come and See for Yourself.

Have they proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured thousands of these women?

Come and See for Yourself.

This advertisement is only for doubters. The great army of women who know from their own personal experience that no medicine in the world equals Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female ills will still go on using and being benefited by it; but the poor doubting, suffering woman must, for her own sake, be taught confidence, for she also might just as well regain her health.

Empty hogheads furnished free to parties wishing to ship their tobacco by rail or river

Tobacco is unloaded in large, flat baskets, each grade to itself, weighed and receipt given owner, showing number of draft and pounds thereof. A corresponding ticket is placed on each pile. The highest bid is written on ticket and, should owner accept same, by presenting at office receipt previously given, the cash is handed over.

Should the bid offered not be satisfactory, the tobacco can be offered the next day or at any other time thereafter.

It costs absolutely nothing to offer your tobacco unless bid is accepted, in which case we charge 15 cents per hundred pounds and 2 cents on the dollar.

The greatest demand among manufacturers and dealers is for loose tobacco and, since it will bring more money offered loose, why go to the expense of having prized, stored, insured, inspected and looked after?

You will get more money for your tobacco when offered to the highest bidder in open competition with twenty-five buyers trying to buy than when you expect or require one buyer to buy millions of pounds without competition at a round price.

CHAPTER VIII.

HOW SENATOR LANGDON GETS A SECRE-TARY.

LANGDON leaned over and seized the arm of his interviewer.
"See here, young man, why aren't you in politics?" he said.
"Too busy, senator," replied Haines.
"Besides, I like the newspaper game."
"Game?" queried Langdon.

"Oh, I use the word in a general sense, senator," replied Haines. "Protects much everything is a 'game'—society, politics, newspaper work, business of every sort. Men and women make moves to meet the moves of other men and women. Why, even in religion, the way some people play a—"

The speaker was interrupted by the appearance of Hope Georgia, who was searching for her father.

"Stay here and listen to what a hard task your old father has got," said the Mississippian to his daughter, whom he presented to Haines with a picturesque flourish reminiscent of the pride and chivalry of the old south. "He has the idea that those New Yorkers who read his paper would actually like to know something about me."

Hope Georgia stole many glances at the reporter as he talked with her father. He made a deep impression on her young mind. She had spent almost all her life on the plantation, her father providing her with a private tutor instead of sending her to boarding school, where her elder sister had been educated. Owing to the death of her mother the planter had desired to keep Hope Georgia at home for companionship.

This good looking, clean cut,
well built young man who was taking so big and so active a part of the world's work brought to her the atmosphere that her spirit craved. He gave one an impression of ability, earnestness, of sincerity, and she was glad that her father approved of him.

Hope Georgia, by the same token did not escape the attention of the interviewer. Her appealing charm of face and figure was accentuated by her daintiness and a fleeting suggestion of naivete in pose and expression when she was amused. His first glance revealed to Haines that her eyes were gray, the gray that people say indicates the possessor to have those priceless qualities—the qualities that make the sweetest women true, that make the maiden's eyes in truth
the windows of her soul, the qualities that make women womanly.

She sat close to her father, her hand
in his, listening intently to the unfolding of a story of what to her was a mysterious world—the man's world.
The strong man's world—which many a woman would give her all to enter and play a part therein.

"What else have you against a political career, Mr. Haines?" went on the senator, taking up their conversation.

"Well, my age for one thing. I haven't any gray hairs."

Langdon waved this objection aside.
"I might arrange to pool ages with you. Sometimes I think we want young men in politics, like you."

The reporter shook his head.
"Old in age and young in politics,
like you, Senator Langdon," he replied.
"Politics I sometimes think is pure hypocrisy and sometimes something worse. A man gets disgusted with the trickery and dishonesty and corruption."

"Then," drawled Langdon, "the thing to do is to jump in and stop it. I read in the newspapers a great deal about corruption. The gentlemen in national politics whom I have had the honor of knowing—Senator Moseley, an intimate friend of thirty years; my present colleague, Senator Stevens, and others—have been as honest as the day is long."

"But the days do get short in November, when congress meets, don't they?" laughed Haines, rising. "I'm afraid I've taken too much of your time, and I seem to have talked a lot."

Langdon was amused.
"Does look like I'd ben interviewing you. I reckon each one of us has got a pretty good notion of what the other man's like. I wanted it that way, and I like you, Mr. Haines. I've got a proposition to make to you. They tell me I'll need a secretary. Now, I think I need just such a young man as you. I don't know just exactly what the work would be or what the financial arrangements should be, but I think you and I would make a pretty good team.
I wish you'd come." He turned to his daughter, with a smile. "What do you think of that, Hope Georgia? Isn't your dad right?"

Smiling her approval, the young girl squeezed her father's hand in her enthusiasm.

"I think it's a splendid idea, dad;
just great! Won't you come, Mr.
Haines? We—oh—I—I know my father would like to have you."

As he stood before his two new found friends—for such Haines now considered the Mississippian and his daughter—he could not suppress feelings of surprise tinged with uncertainty. He had, like other newspaper men, received offers of employment from politicians who desired to increase

"Won't you come, Mr. Haines?"

their influence with the press. Sometimes the salary offered had been large,
the work so light that the reporter could "earn" the money and yet retain his newspaper position, a scanty disguised species of bribery, which had wrecked the careers of several prominent young reporters well known to Haines, young men who had been thus led into "selling their columns" by unscrupulous machine dictators.

Haines knew that the Mississippian had no ulterior purpose to be in his offer, yet he must have time to think over the proposal.

"I thank you, senator," he finally said. "I appreciate the opportunity, coming from you, but I've never thought of giving up the newspaper profession. It's a fascinating career, one that I am too fond of to leave."

Langdon started to reply, when a delightfully modulated southern voice interrupted:

"Father, I've been out with Mrs.
Spangler to look for some other rooms.
I don't like this hotel, and I found some that I do like."

Haines turned to see a handsomely gowned young woman who had the stamp of a patrician's daughter in her bearing and her countenance—a brunette, with delicate features, though determination shone in her eyes and appeared in the self contained pose of her head. She was the imperious type of beauty and suggested to Haines the dry point etchings of Paul Helleu. He instinctively conceived her to be intensely ambitious, and of this Haines was soon to have unexpected evidence.

Gazing at her with a sense of a growing admiration, Haines gave an involuntary start as Senator Langdon spoke:

"My daughter, Miss Carolina Langdon, Mr. Haines," said the senator.
Carolina was interested.

"Are you the newspaper man who is interviewing father? I hope you'll do a nice one. We want him to be a successful and popular senator. We'd like to help him if we could."

The correspondent bowed.
"I should say you certainly would help him to be a popular senator," he declared emphatically, falling to notice that Hope Georgia was somewhat annoyed at the enthusiasm displayed over her elder sister. In fact, Hope Georgia was suffering a partial fit not total relapse.

"I'm leaving it to Mr. Haines to put down the things I ought to say," broke in the senator. "He knows."

"Yes, he knows everything about Washington, Carolina," exclaimed Hope Georgia spiritedly.

The older girl spoke eagerly.
"I wish you'd interview me, Mr.
Haines. Ask me how I like Washington. I feel as though I must tell someone just how much I do like it! It is too wonderful!"

"I'd like mighty well to interview
you, Miss Langdon," enthusiastically exclaimed Haines.

"I hope you will some time, Mr.
Haines," remarked Carolina as she said
goodby.

Watching her as she turned away,
Haines saw her extend a warm greet-

"I hope you'll do a nice one."

ing to Congressman Charles Norton, who had advanced toward the group.

"Strange how the Langdons treat him as a friend—intimate one, too," he thought. "What if they should learn of Norton's questionable operations at the capitol; of his connection with two unsavory 'deals,' one of which resulted in an amendment of the pure food law so that manufacturers of a valueless 'consumption cure' could continue to mislead the victims of the 'white plague,' Norton, who had uttered an epigram now celebrated in the tap-rooms of Washington, 'The paths of glory lead but to the graft.'"

"Miss Langdon is very beautiful and attractive, sir," said Haines, resuming with the senator.

"Yes," drawled the Mississippian.
"Girls in the south generally are."

"Well, I must be going. I'll think about your secretaryship, Senator Langdon. Perhaps I can find some one."

"Wish you'd think about it for yourself," observed the senator, while Hope Georgia again nodded approval. "It

NO HELP FOR HOPKINS TO COME FROM TAFT

Firmly Refuses to Interfere in Illinois Struggle

Walter Wellman Says Fear of Bond Issue in Time of Peace Worries Congress.

DEFICIT MENACING PROBLEM

Washington, March 3.—President-elect Taft will not interfere in the Illinois senatorial contest. He plainly told Senator Hopkins so, says Walter Wellman in the Chicago Record-Herald. According to the unofficial version, "Mr. Taft turned Hopkins down good and hard." What Mr. Taft did was to tell Mr. Hopkins he would not take any part in the struggle either for or against the present senator. If any danger of the election of a Democratic senator should appear, that would be another matter to be dealt with at the proper time. But inasmuch as no danger is now in sight Mr. Taft said he would have to adhere to his well-settled policy of letting the Republicans of the various states fight out their local battles without interference from the head of the national party.

Mr. Taft reminded Mr. Hopkins that he had ben implored to intervene in Oregon in an effort to save Senator Fulton from defeat at the hands of a Democrat, Governor Chamberlain, but had declined to do so, in pursuance of his policy. Why, then, he asked, should he intervene in Illinois? It will be remembered that National Chairman Hitchcock was one of the prominent Republicans who wanted to go to the help of Senator Fulton, but when the matter was brought to his attention
Mr. Taft would not let Mr. Hitchcock do it. Senator Fulton is something of a favorite with the new president and is to be appointed to a federal judgeship on the Pacific coast.

About 60 per cent of the population of Western Havana Province, Cuba, for generations has been connected in one way or another with tobacco growing.

Every time you spend a dollar at fice you pay 50 cents for employes'

would be a hard job. There are so many matters of political detail about which I am sadly inexperienced that really most of the work would fall on the secretary."

But Haines paused. Again he thought over Langdon's offer. Its genuineness appealed to him. Suddenly there dawned on him an idea of just what it might mean to be associated with this honest old citizen who had asked for his help—who needed it, as Haines knew only too well. He would be the senator's guide and confidant—his adviser in big matters. Why, he would practically be United States senator himself. He knew the "inside" as few others in Washington. Here was a chance to match his wit against that of Peabody, the boss of the senate; a chance to spoil some of the dishonest schemes of those who were adroitly
"playing the game." He could better, too, the intriguing members of the "third house," as the lobbyists are called. He could direct a lightning bolt into the camp of Andy Corrigan, who claimed the honor of being "speaker of the third house." These thoughts crowded into his mind. Then, too, he would become practically a member of the Langdon family and have association with the two charming daughters—with Carolina Langdon.

"It would be a great chance," he murmured half aloud; "next thing to being a senator."

The old Mississippian heard the young man's words.

"I reckon it would," he drawled in agreement.

"You feel sure you want me?" urged the other.

Langdon chuckled.

"I asked you," he said.

Haines came abruptly to decision.

"I've thought it over, senator, and it seems to me it will be a great chance in every way. I'll accept."

Langdon held forth his hand.

"And I'll try to make you a good senator, my boy. Fix up nothing tomorrow. Your duties begin tonight.
You are to come to dinner with me and my daughters."

(To be continued in next issue.)

WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN

Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write to Dr. Pierce and receive free the advice of a physician of over 40 years' experience
—a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter of this sort has the most careful consideration and is regarded as sacredly confidential. Many sensitively modest women write fully to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The local physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce holds that these distasteful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in rare cases, should submit to them.

Dr. Pierce's treatment will cure you right in the privacy of your own home. His "Favorite Prescription" has cured hundreds of thousands, some of them the worst of cases.

It is the only medicine of its kind that is the product of a regularly graduated physician. The only one good enough that its makers dare to print its every ingredient on its outside wrapper. There's no secrecy. It will bear examination. No alcohol and no habit-forming drugs are found in it. Some unscrupulous medicine dealers may offer you a substitute. Don't take it. Don't trifle with your health. Write to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R.

WOMAN A MONSTER, TORTURES BABIES

Servants Say the Sargents Were Inhuman to Children.

Authorities Tracing Parentage of Charges in Hands of Mysterious Couple.

PARIS SCENTS A SCANDAL

Paris, March 3.—The case of the Englishman, Sargent, and his wife, said to be an American, who were arrested at Asnières, charged with gross ill treatment of four small children, whom they had adopted may develop into a great scandal.

The chief energy of the authorities is directed to tracing the parentage of the children abandoned to the custody of the Sargents.

Woman Claims an Allowance.

The authorities say that the woman insists that she is the daughter of a Frenchman named Savain and an American woman, who now live in the United States, and that they forward her each year $6,250 as an allowance.

Before an examining magistrate the woman declared that she had not maltreated the children, but had only chastised them when necessary. She said she had adopted the children because she loved them. There were violent scenes in the courtroom between the accused couple and their servants, the latter charging the woman with being a prevaricating monster.

One Child Born Last November.

The police say they have established the fact that the youngest child adopted by the Sargents was born in November at the Holy Trinity lodge, an Anglo-American institution, the membership of which is composed of English and American girls.

Some people make a specialty of giving advice they know will not be heeded.

DANDRUFF GERMS MUST GO.

In America the dandruff germs must go. The war of extermination has been declared. The battle has begun and already thousands of intelligent Americans have permanently rid themselves of this filthiness.

Today it is no more necessary for a man to have dandruff in his hair than to have tartar on his teeth.

Dandruff can never be cured until the small, aggravating and indomitable dandruff germ is conquered and destroyed.

And millions of dandruff germs have been destroyed thanks to the great scientist and dermatologist who gave to the world Parisian Sage, the only real dandruff cure and hair grower the world has ever known.

If you have dandruff, Parisian Sage will cure you in two weeks, or your money back.

But besides ridding the scalp of dandruff, Parisian Sage is guaranteed to stop falling hair and itching of the scalp. It is not a dye. It is a prime favorite with women of refinement. It makes the hair soft, lustrous and beautiful, and is not sticky or greasy.

HAS SMALLPOX IN JAIL AT OWENSBORO.

Owensboro, Ky., March 3.—T. S. Anderson, the aged president of the defunct Daviess County Bank and Trust company, who was convicted in January of swearing to a false statement of the condition of his bank, is ill of smallpox in the county jail. It was discovered that Mr. Anderson was affected with the dreaded disease. Five other prisoners are also ill of the same disease.

Mr. Anderson's family have been in the habit of visiting him, but have not seen him since the quarantine was placed on the jail. The disease is in a mild form. Mr. Anderson is in jail pending an appeal to the court of appeals of his sentence of three years in the penitentiary. His case has been set for oral argument at Frankfort on March 10.

It's an argument until the other fellow gets the better of it. Then it's a dispute.

OGDEN ARMOUR VS. JAMES PATTEN

Armour Will Lead Bears in Vigorous Assault.

Meat Packer Will Be Asked to Do
What His Father Did When He Broke Up the Leiter Corner.

WHEAT FIGHT IS BREWING

Chicago, Ill., March 3.—Upon the shoulders of J. Ogden Armour will fall the task of grappling with James A. Patten, acknowledged "wheat king" of the world, in an attempt to overthrow the "czar of the pit," and put wheat around the dollar mark.

It was the late P. D. Armour who was called upon at the last minute to overthrow the young "Joe" Leiter when the impetuous millionaire tried to corner wheat, and now his son has fallen heir to a task which is even greater. Leiter was thrown over at a cost of $7,000,000 to himself and friends and was forced to go through bankruptcy by the genius of the elder Armour, whose millions were employed in chartering ice-crushing boats and several fleets of the Great Lakes, which kept navigation open through the Soo straits and jumped wheat into Chicago so fast that Leiter and his following were unable to pay cash for it. This spelled their ruin.

The Armour Grain company is said to be short on wheat and on the same side of the market with the other large elevator interests of the country, such as the South Chicago Elevator company and the heads of other companies, in the persons of Nye, Jenks, Rosenbaum and other grain men. J. Ogden Armour will lead these forces against Patten, but as yet the bears are biding their time.

Market Was Automatic.

There are still 90 days in which to deliver May wheat that James A. Patten has bought, and the bears are not inclined to force the fighting at the present stage.

Wheat acted seemingly according to its own sweet will. It opened at $1.16 a bushel, 2 cents lower than it closed Saturday at noon. During the trading fluctuations were varied and brokers stormed the pit, buying and selling wheat in a perfect frenzy. No one seemed to be able to tell just what wheat or Patten would do and prices made a zigzag line across the board. Patten himself did not enter the pit, but three of his trusted men were there, and they automatically bought or sold, according to the grain king's orders. At the close of the market Patten had given enough support to send wheat to $1.17.

This price was taken as showing nothing of the real conditions of the market. It was admitted that Patten could step into the pit at any time and put wheat at $1.20 a bushel or even more, but the bears claimed that this advantage would mean nothing and that it would be a condition that no man, unless he had the wealth of a dozen Rockefeller at his command, could support for any length of time.

Both Sides Confident.

Both the bulls and the bears appear confident and both quote volubly of figures which seem to prove that the position they have taken is the correct one and that their knowledge of the wheat conditions of the world has been carefully gleaned and their information accurate in every detail.

Patten, as the leader of the bull market, says that there is not enough wheat to supply the world's demand, while the leaders in the bear move-

FEEBLE OLD LADY

Has Strength Restored By Vinol.

Mrs. Michael Bloom, of Lewiston, Pa., who is 80 years of age, says: "For a long time I have been so feeble that I have had to be wheeled around in an invalid chair. I had no strength and took cold at the slightest provocation, which invariably settled on my lungs, and a cough would result. My son learned of the cod liver preparation called Vinol, and procured a bottle for me. It built up my strength rapidly, and after taking three bottles I am able to do most of my work and I can walk a quarter of a mile easily. Every aged or weak person who requires strength should try Vinol. I am delighted with what it has done for me."

As a body builder and strength creator for old people, delicate children, weak, run-down persons, and after sickness, Vinol is unexcelled. If it fails to give satisfaction we will return your money.

VINOL is sold in Paducah by W. B. McPherson, Druggist.

Messrs. Max Bergman and Joe Gerstensang, of New York, are the proprietors of the new establishment and they promise that, not only will the character of the store be distinctly unusual but very novel and unusual merchandising methods will prevail in every detail. Mr. Gerstensang is now in New York buying and Mr. Bergman will leave to join him tomorrow morning.
